Best ... Hello,

We appreciate you sharing your concerns and understand that you're upset about the limitations you experienced while using ChatGPT. We take all feedback seriously and will review your comments internally. If you're still seeking help with your request, we're here to assist within the boundaries of our usage policies.

If ChatGPT refused to assist with your website, it may have been due to our usage policies and safety systems. We have strong guardrails in place to prevent harmful misuse, particularly in contexts related to child safety. These measures are designed to protect everyone—including children—and to comply with legal and ethical standards. For more information on our safety approach, you can visit OpenAI safety practices and resource pages about protecting children.

If there's anything further we can do to support you, don't hesitate to let us know.
